

uHungada Sangu is a song from the film 'Hello', sung by its lead actress Aditi Rao Hydari. The song talks about the difficulties of being a female lead in Bollywood, and how it can sometimes be hard to be taken seriously. The music video was released on YouTube on 21 January 2017, and has over 11 million views as of November 2018. The 37 Best Websites to Learn Something New blog post was written by Jacqueline Hill. She mentions uHungada Sangu's video as an example of a video that "merged words and visuals to create a dramatic effect". The music video for uHungada Sangu was directed by Ashima Chibber and produced by Culture Machine. The stylist was Anaita Shroff Adajania. The choreographer was V. Durga Prasad. Costume designers were Manisha Tailor and Sonal Jain. The song was filmed at various locations in the Mumbai region. The song was filmed at both a residential colony in Andheri and a luxury hotel in Juhu area of the city. The song shows Aditi Rao Hydari singing about why she loves her character, but also how it can be difficult to have to play the role of an actress in Bollywood. The music video shows Aditi Rao Hydari wearing various outfits designed by Manisha Tailor, Sonal Jain, Anaita Shroff Adajania, Kunka Lalwani and Shalena Nuthaniya. It uses the theme of growing taller, with Aditi Rao Hydari wearing different high heels that change her height. The song shows her going from being a normal looking young woman who lives in a normal flat to becoming a glamorous superstar actress. She grows taller and taller, and the more height she gets, the more success she seems to have. The song starts off with a plain faced girl wearing a printed dress getting on the train from Andheri railway station, while Aditi Rao Hydari sings about how her character never liked being on trains because of the crowds they get on them. She climbs over the top of the train to get off, and as soon as she gets off, she becomes a big actress. This actress now wears high heels and sunglasses. The video shows her waiting by an old shop in Juhu area for her co-star Ranveer Singh to pick her up in a helicopter. As soon as he comes, they both fly away to a mansion where they begin singing and dancing to the song together. The music video has received positive reviews from critics for its use of interesting camera angles, interesting story line and good choreography. The theme of growing taller was done very well according to critics.
